Radio Communications and Dispatch Operations

Clermont County has provided an 800 MHz mixed mode simulcast voice radio communications system conforming to the Association of Public Safety Communications Officers (APCO) Project 16 standards since 1999.

This system supports the communications requirements for all Public Safety and service organizations serving the citizens of the County. This includes traditional first responders such as Fire, EMS, Law Enforcement, ODNR Rangers and State Highway Patrol. Additional service agencies include; County Engineer, Community Transit operations, School Districts, and Local Township and Village operations. Regional mutual aid agencies providing service between counties are also served by this communication system.

Currently several components of the original P16 system are at or beyond their end of life cycle and are no longer being supported by the manufacturer. The overall system is in the process of being replaced with a new APCO Project 25 voice radio system which will be operational in 2014. The P25 system will provide increased reliability and interoperability between regional and statewide users as it will be directly linked into the State of Ohio's statewide communications system known as MARCs.

As part of the overall emergency communications systems in operation within the County, Clermont County currently provides a Very High Frequency (VHF) paging system as a service to the fire and EMS agencies serving the citizens of Clermont County.

This paging system functions as an initial alert to the particular fire department of the EMS squad which is being assigned to handle a particular call for service. This paging system was acquired by the county at the same time as the 800 MHz public safety voice system in 1999. The paging system has not only reached its end of life cycle, but the FCC has mandated that all radio systems operating in this frequency range must come into compliance with the FCC narrow banded with band widths from 25 KHz to 125 KHz.

A crucial part of the countywide communications system is a microwave sub-system. The microwave sub-system is a key system supporting both the voice and paging operations. This system has reached its end of life cycle and is being replaced along with the P25 Voice system and Paging system.

All of the components of the Countywide Communications system are in the process of being replaced and the entire system will be activated in 2014. Total cost of the upgrades and replacements is estimated to be $10M and is being paid for by existing Clermont County capital funds dedicated to this project.

This division operates and maintains eight wastewater treatment facilities, 105 lift stations and over three million linear feet of sanitary sewer. The eight wastewater facilities have a total treatment capacity of nearly 27 MGD.

Wastewater system 5-year Capital Improvement Maps for each township are included in the Comprehensive Plan Appendix.

3. Maintenance Division

Responsible for maintaining underground piping systems, pumping equipment, mechanical and electrical facilities for the utility.

4. Engineering Division

Responsible for the design, construction, and administration of county-wide water and sewer Capital Improvements.

5. Office of Environmental Quality (OEQ) Coordinates activities related to surface water quality monitoring, watershed planning and solid waste management, including recycling and waste reduction. OEQ also manages the Clermont County Sewer District laboratory and industrial pretreatment program.

6. Customer Service Division

Supports over 43,000 customers by maintaining account data, meter reading, and generating bimonthly bills, among other things.

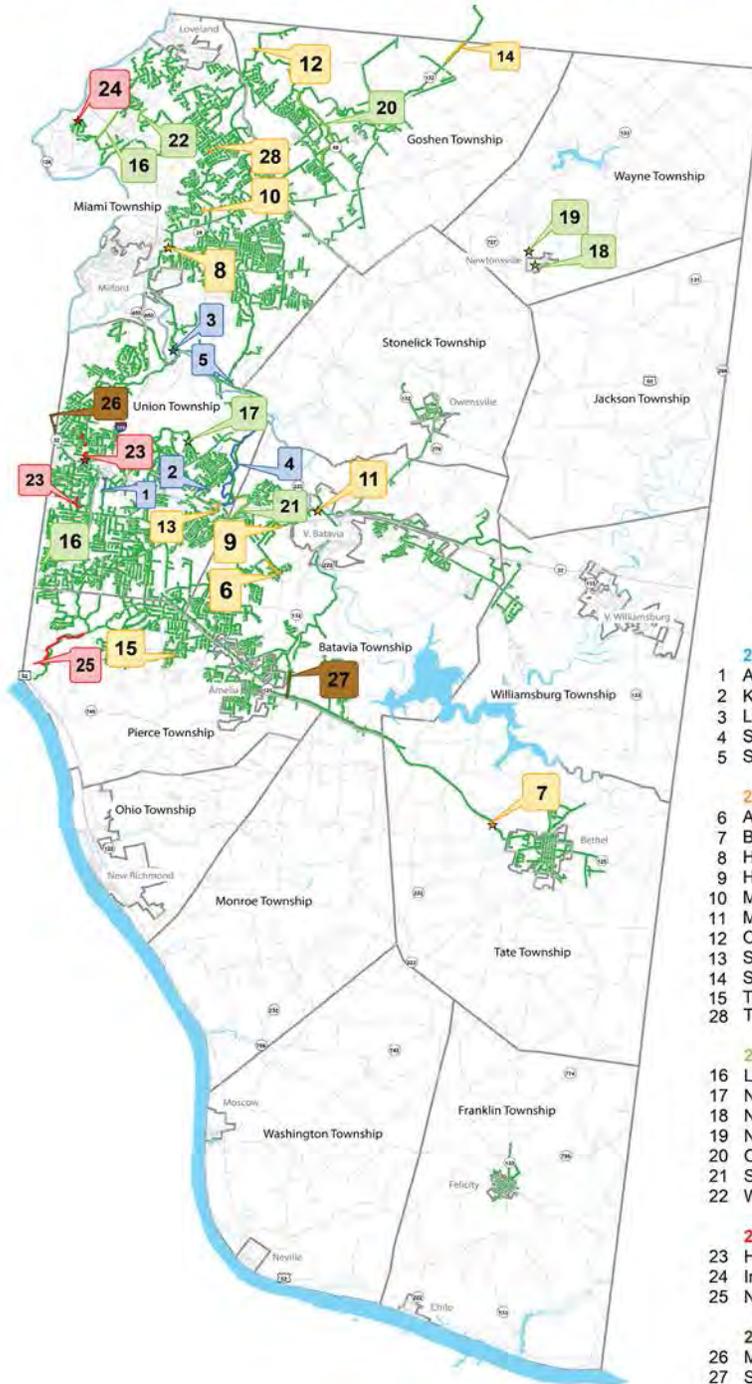

In Clermont County, maintenance of the drainage systems within the road right-of-way, whether storm sewers or open channels, are the responsibility of the government entity in charge of maintaining the road.

The Ohio Department of Transportation maintains the storm sewer infrastructure along state highways in Clermont County, while the Clermont County Engineer's Office cares for the systems that serve county roads. Storm sewer systems within the right-of-way of township and municipal roads are the responsibility of the respective township, city or village.

Outside the public right-of-way, private property owners are responsible for the maintenance of storm sewers or open channels on their own lots, regardless of the size of the system or the area served. While no government entity currently has the ability or authority to conduct improvements on private property, the Clermont Soil & Water Conservation District will provide guidance and technical assistance to land owners interested in improving drainage on their property.

Clermont County Parks and Recreation

The Clermont County Park District was formed in 1970 as a separate political subdivision of the State of Ohio. The probate judge appoints a volunteer three member board of commissioners who serve three years without pay.

Mission Statement

To acquire, plan, develop, program, and maintain park property in the county for residents and nonresidents alike. To secure the preservation of open space and places of scenic or historic value.

In 2014, the Clermont County Park District adopted its first comprehensive Master Plan. The plan was developed to address existing concerns for shrinking budgets and expanding responsibilities for the District. In addition, this plan serves as a tool for planning future park properties, services, programs, staffing and finances.

The Master Plan was developed through research of the current conditions, input from Park District leadership, and feedback from the Clermont County community.

The Clermont County Park District Master Plan is part of the Clermont County Comprehensive Plan and can be found in the Appendix.

The map on page 161 shows all of the parks that are located in Clermont County and their locations.

Virginia Bluebells are one of many wildflowers that bloom along the trails at Sycamore Park during April and May.

Larger Blue Flag (Iris versicolor) is a native iris. A wetland plant, it can be found blooming in May at the wetland at Chilo Lock 34 Park in Clermont County Ohio.

Clermont County Parks and Recreation

The Clermont County Park District operates six parks, three nature preserves, and five greenspaces with a total of 520 acres.

Chilo Lock 34 Park

The park is located on the site of a former US Army Corps of Engineers lock and dam. The highlight of the park is the Chilo Lock 34 Visitor Center and Museum, which offers three floors of exhibits and interactive displays focusing on the history of the Ohio River and locks and dams.

Crooked Run Nature Preserve

Crooked Run is owned by the Ohio Department of Natural Resources, Division of Natural Areas and Preserves. Its location along the Ohio River provides several scenic views and is an excellent location for bird watching and nature enthusiasts. Over 180 species of birds have been observed in the preserve.

Hartman Log Cabin

The Hartman family were early residents of Jackson Township and built this log home in 1838. CECOS International donated the cabin to the Park District in 1993 after it was restored.

Lake Harsha

Lake Harsha's beautiful natural environment provides visitors with a wealth of outdoor recreation activities.

Kelley Nature Preserve

Given to the Park District by Virginia Kelley as a memorial to her husband, Walter A. Kelley, the 42 acre nature preserve is located along the scenic Little Miami River. Over one mile of hiking trails are present.

The powerhouse of the old Lock and Dam #34 on the Ohio River. The powerhouse was the focal point of the 14 acre lock and dam site on the Ohio River from 1925 - 1964. The building and grounds are now owned by the Clermont County Park District, which operates a Visitor Center and hands-on interpretive museum in the old lockhouse.
